

CAPITAL'S TUNNEL ALMOST COMPLETED

Only Short Spur Track to Be Laid in East Section.

TO BE EIGHTH WONDER

Last Spike Driven in the Western Section Only a Few Days Ago.

Within the next twenty days Washington's first important tunnel project, through which trains coming up from the South will carry their passengers to discharge them at the new Union Station, will be turned over by the contractors to the Pennsylvania Railroad.
So rapid has been the progress in building this great underground tube that the finishing touches were put on the west section more than three weeks ago, and the completion of the whole job is now merely a matter of laying a short spur of track in the east section.

Nothing short of a serious accident will mar this program, and thus the thousands of engineers and laymen, who have watched with keenest interest the tunnel grow into shape, first from a mere ditch to a double-sectional tube, will see the project finished several months in advance of contract time.

First of Its Kind Here.
The tunnel itself is without doubt the most interesting piece of engineering ever undertaken in the District, largely, perhaps, because the majority of Washingtonians have never experienced the sensation of traveling beneath the surface of mother earth. For this reason it is likely to be regarded, until the newness wears off, as "the eighth wonder of the world."

The south end of the tunnel is at New Jersey avenue and Second street southeast, where northbound trains will soon make their entry into the Capital, while the north end is at First and C streets northeast, a distance of nearly a mile. One of the accompanying pictures, showing the advanced state of the tunnel, was taken at the south end, and the other is a flashlight showing an interior view of the west section of the tube at a point half way between the termini.

Last Spike Driven.
A few days ago the last spike was driven in the track running through the west section, which will accommodate southbound trains. Now the work of laying the track in the east section, with some polishing and brush-ing up of the masonry, is all that remains to be done, and soon the novel sight of seeing a trainload of people disappear underground at New Jersey avenue and Second street southeast, as if the earth had indeed swallowed them up, to emerge again at the Union Station, will become a common one.

The work has been done entirely by contract, supervised by an engineer representing the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the contractors being the New York Continental Jewell Filtration Company.

With the intention of erecting a new industrial home school for white children with the money received, George S.
Wilson, secretary of the Board of Charities, will tomorrow urge the District Commissioners to effect through Congress the sale of seven acres of land used by the present industrial home school on Wisconsin avenue, to the Navy Department. Secretary Wilson will make this recommendation in connection with his annual estimates which he is now preparing for submission to the District Commissioners.

The Navy Department has been desirous of obtaining the tract in question, as it adjoins the grounds of the Naval Observatory. Last year the Commissioners received an offer of $18,000 for the land, but before the deal can be consummated Congress is required to approve it. In case the proposition is agreed upon, the new industrial home school will be located, Secretary Wilson states, somewhere near the industrial home school for colored children and the new almshouse.

Another proposition that Secretary Wilson will probably urge is the erection of a new municipal hospital for the treatment of the chronic diseases of indigents. The present accommodations at the Washington Asylum Hospital, he says, are woefully lacking, and Superintendent Zinkhan finds it a difficult problem to care for the sick. Superintendent Zinkhan proposes that a wing be erected on the north side of the new workhouse with a large executive building in the center. Such a plan, according to Secretary Wilson, would take an appropriation of $100,000.

SUPREME COURT JUSTICES LECTURE TO LAW STUDENTS

Mr. Justice Brewer began his course of lectures on "International Law," at the George Washington University, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Justice Hearst will deliver his first lecture on "Constitutional Law" in University Hall, at 5:40 p. m. tomorrow. Justice Harlan's lectures, which will continue throughout the session on Mondays and Fridays of each week, as well as those of Justice Brewer, are open to all students of the university. The dean of the department of law will be glad to welcome the alumni and other friends of the university at these lectures.

BROWNSON'S SQUADRON SAILS FROM PIRAEUS

Rear Admiral Brownson's star American armor-plated cruiser squadron of warships, which left Newport a few days after the President's review of the Atlantic fleet, early in September, has now entered on the last stage of its journey through the Mediterranean. The squadron, which is composed of the West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Colorado, has left Piraeus for Port Said. Admiral Brownson is expected to reach Manila with his ships early in November, as the remainder of the voyage will be made with little delay.

CAPT. FRANK M'INTYRE RETURNING FROM CUBA

Consults With Secretary Taft on Affairs Connected With Insular Bureau.

Capt. Frank McIntyre, acting chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs of the War Department, left Havana Monday for Washington. He boarded the transport Sumner, which landed the first American troops in Cuba yesterday, and is scheduled to arrive at Newport News Thursday. The Sumner going to that point to take on another consignment of troops for Cuba.

Captain McIntyre went to Havana to consult with Secretary Taft concerning what part, if any, the insular bureau will take in the management of the Cuban affairs under the provisional government. The Secretary of War is said to favor the plan of bringing Cuban affairs under this bureau, as they were successfully handled in that manner during the administration of Major General Wood as military governor of the island. The result of the conference is not known, a cablegram from the captain merely stating that he was on route home.

Brigadier General Edwards, chief of the Insular Bureau, who has been at Fort Bayard, New Mexico, several months for the benefit of his health, has sent word that he will not return to Washington the first of November, as he had intended, but will remain two weeks longer, in order to effect a complete recovery before assuming his heavy duties again.

CHURCH SOLDIERS' UNION HOLDS SOCIAL GATHERING

Stirring reminiscences and patriotic songs were features of the reunion of the Soldiers' Union of the First Congregational Church, held last evening in the church parlors.

Interesting talks were delivered by O.
H. Oldroyd and Miss Flora Johnson, and a report of the last year's work was read by Elizabeth Gooding, secretary. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the exercises.

GEORGE U. MORRIS POST IN SATISFACTORY SHAPE

Department Commander B. F. Entriken and his staff made an annual inspection of George U. Morris Post, G. A.
R., last night, at the post's headquarters, thirty-second and N streets. Department Inspector E. C. Dougherty and Assistant Inspector Thomas H. Jenks, after inspection, declared the condition of the post's affairs encouraging.

CITIZENS WILL AID GREATER CITY BOOM

Northeast Association Adopts Resolution to That Effect.

Resolutions endorsing the Greater Washington "boom" movement, and inviting manufacturers to locate in the northeast part of the city, were adopted at a meeting of the Northeast Citizens' Association, in Northeast Temple, Twelfth and G streets last night.

"We heartily endorse the movement, and want a share of the benefits for ourselves," is their shibboleth.

Another resolution, censuring the Board of Education for their unnecessarily long wait in awarding back pay to the teachers and other defects in the system was passed. The paper also asserted that it seemed to be impossible for a stranger to assume the duties of School Superintendent Stuart without some friction.

"As yet," said the resolution, "the situation is unsettled. The salaries are to be paid at once, and the school question looks better than it has for some time. Congress last session passed several bills that were recommended by the members of this association. Much good will undoubtedly come of them.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION INDORSES W. R. HEARST

Resolution Calling Upon New York Workingmen to Cast Votes for Him Unanimously Adopted.

William Randolph Hearst's candidacy for the governorship of New York was indorsed by the Central Labor Union at its meeting last night in Typographical Temple. A resolution calling upon the laboring men of New York to cast their votes for him for governor was unanimously adopted.

In response to the appeal of the American Federation of Labor for a $1 per capita tax contribution for campaign purposes the Central Labor Union appropriated $5.

A telegram was received from W. L.
Little, from Pittsburgh, asking the Central Labor Union to indorse him as all right, politically. Little, it appeared, is a candidate for a political office of Pittsburgh. Little was formerly prominent here in labor circles.

BRINGS LIBEL SUIT TO RECOVER $15,000

Alexander Elliott, who does duty as a crossing policeman at the corner of Ninth street and Pennsylvania avenue, has begun suit in the local courts against Charles A. Langley, a local contractor, to recover $15,000 as damages for alleged libel.

In his declaration, made through Attorney Wilton J. Lambert, Mr. Elliott states that on December 28, last, Mr. Langley sent a letter to Major Sylvester in which he accused the plaintiff of brutally beating a man whom he had arrested.

B'ack taffeta silks at remarkable prices

- 75c goods at 49c yd.
- $1 goods at 59c yd.

These goods are made specially for us. We have a very strict contract with the mill. We guarantee every yard sold at regular prices. After these pieces were woven the makers found what they thought were defects that they did not care to stand back of on their compact. They wrote us and we gave the silks a very thorough inspection.
We found nothing wrong. But we did not hesitate to accept the big discount offered by the mill. So this lot we shall sell at the prices named.
AND EVERY YARD WILL BE GUARANTEED FOR WEAR.
The silks at 75c are 19 in. wide, and those at 59c 22 in. wide. They are firm and perfect in color. Nothing better even at regular prices may be had for lining purposes. (1st floor—Bargain Tables.)
